

When and what information is collected from and about you?

- when you register on the website, place an order from the online store or over the phone, reply to an e-mail, or participate in an event or feature of the website;
- when you make a purchase, your name, e-mail address, mailing address, phone number, credit card information and other information may be asked and/or required;
- when you log in or visit anonymously to the NGA website, we may note and save the IP and other pertinent info about your connection, computer and operating system;
- whenever we meet you in person, talk to you on the phone or chat online with you, it is likely that we will save pertinent information about you for our records.

How do we use your information?

- to make your website interaction more personal and pertinent;
- to make face-to-face or phone communications and emails more personal and pertinent;
- to service you more promptly and accurately upon your request;

How do we protect your information?

- secure networks
- 100% confidentiality
- Secure Socket Layer (SSL) transmission of your sensitive information over the internet
- encrypted sensitive information, such as your bank card number, that can only be used by NGA to process your order

Just how confidential is your information at NGA?

The information NGA collects from and about you is kept strictly confidential and used for internal NGA business only. NGA will never sell, give to or allow other parties access to your information, unless required to do so by a government authority operating under warrant.

Can you modify or delete your information?

You can modify items like your mailing address, card info, phone number and so forth either by phone, email or from your account on the website. You will be asked for personal information to substantiate your identity. You will not be able to erase the history of your transactions with NGA however.

Website links to third parties

The website contains hyperlinks to other websites not associated with NGA. These websites and entities have their own, possibly quite different, policies. NGA can not be held liable or responsible for problems you may have with these other websites, but we are quite interested to know if any problems occur so we can better protect and provide the best convenience to our visitors and customers.

Changes to this policy

Refer to the revision date in the page title above. Changes will apply to information collected after this date, but not necessarily before.

Questions and feedback

NGA very much wants to receive your questions, comments and concerns about privacy or anything else for that matter. We will try to satisfy you but there are no guarantees.

Consent

Your consent to this policy is implied when you contact NGA or use the website.

Terms and Conditions

Disclaimers and limitations to liability regarding interactions with NGA, our website or our products are express in the Terms and Conditions policy, posted elsewhere on the website.